Greetings Friends and Families,

I have been a part of Catholic education for twelve years now and I have to say the STAGS sure know how to celebrate Catholic Schools Week! Each day this week has had a special theme beginning with Decade Day. Every classroom I visited made me feel like I was in a time warp; every decade from the 30's all the way to the 90's was represented! Tuesday was filled with mismatched clothing and C-R-A-Z-Y hair! Hair was spiked, pinned, and even one student wore a bottle in her hair. Wednesday was the big volleyball game; friendly competition at its best. Today the halls were filled with advertisements for all the wonderful academic institutions surrounding our great area; I proudly wore my green and white as my blood does run a little green 😊. Although we have been having a great deal of fun, the theme of this special week has not been forgotten. Faith, Academics, and Service has been in our minds all week. We practice our faith, participate in academics and learn about service every day. Tomorrow, all are attending a school wide assembly entitled the "Parable Project" to culminate the week. You should be receiving a special note from your child as well. It truly has been a blessed week and I think it is safe to say that my blood is turning from green to black and red!

Blessings and Kind Regards,
Mrs. Brydges

Clarification:

The four year-old pre-school program is transitioning from three days to five days for the 2012-2013 academic year. It will be in session from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. each day NOT all day. A p.m. session may be offered if we reach capacity in our a.m. session. We apologize for any confusion this may have caused. Please feel free to contact Mrs. Brydges with any questions regarding the changes to our Kindergarten and/or Pre-school programs.

Open House 2012:

Open house this past Sunday was very successful. We had over 20 informational folders handed out at the event. We also received some great feedback about our programs. Thank you to all the students, staff and parents who helped make the day successful. Tours and informational packets are available any time. Continue to spread the word!
